1. PREAMBLE

The Promotion of Access to Information Act, 2000 ("PAIA"), as amended, seeks to inter alia, give effect to the Constitutional right of access to any information held by the State or by any other person where such information is required for the exercise or protection of any right and gives natural and juristic persons the right of access to records held by either a private or public body, subject to certain justifiable limitations and grounds of refusal, in order to enable them to exercise or protect their rights.

Blue Spec is a private body as defined in PAIA. Section 51 of PAIA obliges private bodies to compile a manual to enable a person to obtain access to information held by such body and stipulates the minimum requirements that the manual must comply with.

This PAIA Manual constitutes Blue Spec's PAIA Manual. This PAIA Manual is compiled in accordance with section 51 of PAIA as amended by the Protection of Personal Information Act, 2013 ("POPIA"), which gives effect to everyone's Constitutional right to privacy. POPIA amends certain provisions of PAIA, balancing the need for access to information against the need to ensure the protection of personal information.

Where a request is made in terms of PAIA, the body to whom the request is made is obliged to release the information, subject to justifiable limitations, which include, inter alia:

- a) Reasonable protection of privacy;
- b) Commercial confidentiality; and
- c) Effective, efficient and good governance.

PAIA and this PAIA manual sets out the procedure to be adopted when requesting information from a body.

All requests in terms of PAIA and this PAIA Manual must be addressed to the Information Officer, whose details are set out in this manual.
